Meet Allison Bially

- Director, Alternative Energy Systems Consultants
- SEEA Member Representative

AESC joined SEEA because, while they have a larger footprint in western states, they have frequent work in the Carolinas and Florida and are looking to leverage their experience and bring new solutions to the Southeast market. SEEA creates fantastic opportunities to learn about the issues of the entire region, meet the people making change happen locally and discover how and where AESC can add value.

Says Allison of her SEEA experience, "SEEA has been wonderful. So much so, that at times I feel like a walking advertisement! The staff is incredibly friendly and helpful, and the information provided through the policy updates has been spot on. Additionally, I really enjoyed the SEEA Conference last year from both a content and networking perspective and look forward to more of the same. Keep up the great work!"

One of her favorite quotes is "Alone we can do so little; together we can do so much," by Helen Keller. "This quote speaks to me about the power of relationships, teamwork, and partnerships, and shows up in my work daily, because at AESC we bring together our expertise, and the expertise of others, to help affect positive outcomes," states Allison.

Allison's need to have a positive impact on the world took her from the web industry to working in energy efficiency running Demand Side Management programs. In her role as director with AESC she can align her experience and ideals at a company that values integrity, high quality work and relationships.
